

Louis : Yes ! Today, January 26th is the most important day of Australia ! A big day for freedom, peace and democracy.

Louis : Since 1788, millions of peoples came in Australia to find a better life : British of course, but also Chinese, boat people from Middle East, or war victims such as Serbians, Greeks or Croatians.

Louis : I think that, today, Aborigine people make part of the Australian nation. They are citizen and Australia is a multicultural society.

Louis : According to me, despite these problems, which are important, the balance is positive. Aborigines live in a modern society, which hospitals, universities, Internet, and so on...
